SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. George Barker Found Dead in Her Bed.

About 9 o'clock this morning Mrs. George Barker was found dead in her bed at her residence on Kukui lane. Her husband left her sleeping at a little before 7 o'clock when he went to his work at the Honolulu Iron Works. Other parties living in the house visited her room when she did not get up at the usual hour, but as she was still sleeping they did not awaken her. At 9 o'clock she was found to be dead. A telephone message was sent to the Marshal's office and Dr. Emerson soon afterwards made an examination of the body but could give no opinion as to the cause of death, although it was presumed to be from heart disease.

The deceased was found in a natural and easy position and her death must have been painless. She had been ailing for a few days with a bad cold, but otherwise was as well as usual.

Dr. Emerson reported the facts to Coroner Hitchcock but that official had not determined at 1:30 whether it was necessary to hold a post mortem examination and inquest or not.

The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the arrangements being under the charge of C. E. Williams & Son.

Since the above was in type Coroner Hitchcock has ordered a jury summoned for an inquest to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Young Hawaiians' Institute.

The initial lecture of a monthly series recently inaugurated by the Young Hawaiians' Institute was given by W. C. Weedon last night on the "Life and Character of the Duke of Wellington."
